

Call for papers

Workshop on “Labour mobility and migration: determinants and consequences”

Rome – Banca d'Italia – October 4, 2019

We invite you to submit a paper or express interest in attending the Bank of Italy workshop on “Labour mobility and migration: determinants and consequences”, taking place on October 4, 2019 and hosted by Banca d'Italia in Rome.

The one-day workshop aims to provide leading researchers in the field of urban economics and economics of migration an opportunity to present their theoretical and empirical research. Of particular relevance is the study of:

- the determinants of geographic mobility across cities, local labor markets, regions and countries, as well as within these areas;
- the implications in terms of economic efficiency, absorption of demand shocks and wage dynamics.

The keynote lecture will be given by Esteban Rossi-Hansberg (Princeton University).

Paper submission

Full papers or extended abstract can be submitted via email to mobilitymigration@bancaditalia.it.

The deadline for submissions is Friday June 14, 2019. The organizers are unable to accept submissions after this time. We aim to notify successful applicants by late June 2019.

Funding

Limited financial support for economy class air travel and lodging expenses will be available for presenters who are not able to use their own research funds. Barring exceptional circumstances, members of central banks and other public institutions will be asked to cover their own expenses. Meals taken during the conference will be covered for all participants and a dinner will be offered the night before the workshop. To foster the interaction we kindly ask that participants stay for the entire duration of the workshop.

Organizers

Gaetano Basso (Bank of Italy; gaetano.basso@bancaditalia.it)

Emanuele Ciani (Bank of Italy; emanuele.ciani@bancaditalia.it)

For any inquiry please send an email to mobilitymigration@bancaditalia.it